

Five days training programme to progressive farmers under Biotech Kisan Hub conducted by ICAR-DMAPR, Anand, Gujarat

The Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research (DMAPR) is being organised five days farmers training program entitled “Agrotechnology of selected medicinal plants” under Biotech Kisan Hub, Ambach (Phase 1) during 1-5 September, 2020 at ICAR-DMAPR, Boriavi. The aim of this program was promotion of medicinal plants cultivation for livelihood and health security in Gujarat. Total 43 progressive farmers participated in this training programme. The training programme was inaugurated with the floral welcome of Dr. Dr. Uday S. Saha, RBI Professor, IRMA, Anand, by Dr. S. Roy, Director, ICAR-DMAPR, Boriavi. Overall, eleven lectures have been delivered on agrotechnology of selected medicinal plants. During this programme, three practical and one pharmacy visit also arranged by Dr. P. L. Saran, Co-PI of this project.

(Source: ICAR-Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research, Anand, Gujarat)