

One day farmers training on “Production Technology and Value addition of MAPs” under Central Sector Scheme-MIDH, DASD Calicut

The ICAR-Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research (DMAPR), Anand, Gujarat organized one day farmers training on “Production Technology and Value addition of MAPs” for farmers from Varsola Village, Nadiad, District on 14th March, 2023 under Central Sector Scheme, DASD Calicut; Kerala. The programme was started with welcome to Shri. Mehboob Pathan, Sarpanch, Varsola and Shri. Prakshbhai, Shri. Salim Fayaz and also Shri. Thakorbbhai as a progressive farmers of medicinal and aromatic crops in that particular district. About 75 farmers actively participated in the training from Varsola village. The objective of the training was to provide knowledge to farmers about importance and scope of aromatic and medicinal plants cultivation, value addition in this startup development era. Introduction of the training and production technology of the aromatic grasses was explained by the Dr. Khadke G.N., Scientist, DMAPR, Anand and sustainable cultivation of important medicinal plants was explained by Dr. P.L. Saran, Principal Scientist, ICAR-DMAPR, Anand. The different input management and component of organic cultivation in medicinal and aromatic crops was briefed by the Dr. Samadhan Bagul Scientist, DMAPR, Anand. Importance of the primary process and GMP was discussed by Dr. Raghuraj Singh, Sr. Scientist, DMAPR, Anand and value addition in the medicinal and aromatic crops were described by Dr. A. P. Trivedi, ACTO, DMAPR, Anand. The programme concluded with the vote of thanks proposed by Shri. S. B. Prajapati, T.O., DMAPR, Anand.

(Source: AKMU, ICAR-Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research, Anand, Gujarat)