

Kisan Diwas and farmers training on “Improved Production Technology of MAPs” under Central Sector Scheme, DASD Calicut

Salun Village. Also, Shri. Maheshbhai Makhawana was honored as a progressive farmers and grower of Jal brahmi and Shatavari medicinal plants. About 75 scheduled castefarmers actively participated in the training from the Salun village along with their sarpanch. The aim of this training was to provide knowledge to farmers on aromatic and medicinal plants. Introduction of the CSS scheme and production technology of the aromatic grasses was explained by Dr. Khadke G.N., Scientist, DMAPR, Anand and

On the occasion of Kisan Diwas celebrations, ICAR-Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research (DMAPR), Anand, Gujarat organized one day farmers training on “Advanced Production Technology of MAPs” for the scheduled caste farmers from Salun village, Nadiad District on 23rd December, 2022 under Central Sector Scheme, DASD Calicut; Kerala. In this programme the memento was presented to Shri Dhirajkumar Singh, Panchayat Member and Shri. Mahendra Singh, Sarpanch of the sustainable cultivation of MAPs was covered by Dr. P.L. Saran, Principal Scientist, ICAR-DMAPR, Anand. Importance of organic cultivation in medicinal and aromatic crops was briefed by Dr. B. B. Basak, Sr. Scientist, DMAPR, Anand. Importance of the primary process and value addition in the medicinal and aromatic crops was described by Dr. Raghuraj Singh, Sr. Scientist, DMAPR, Anand. The programme concluded with the vote of thanks proposed by Shri. Sureshbhai Prajapati, Technical Officer, DMAPR, Anand.

(Source: AKMU, ICAR-Directorate of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants Research, Anand, Gujarat)